

What is BTB like?

When I have my posts typed on I write them by hand, I simply mail them to BTB, they scan them, post them, and they are available for you to read. I have no idea how the site works, operates, looks like, or functions to free world readers.

Fill me in on what the site looks like from your end:

- * What does the home page look like?
- * How many posts are available to read?
- * How many Bloggers are listed?
- * How did you find my blog out of the 100's listed?
- * What links are connected to the site?

I'm just very curious what your seeing on your end and it'll help me to have that knowledge. Be easy out there and I hope to hear from you soon.
