Ya know, every Now and Then I just feel I have to voice My opinions...

I watch the News channels often and the Reporters keep talking about the Recession, the Price of things, and the Debt of the nation.

Why is there so much crying and complaining? You do know that every human in this country over the age of 16 has equal fault in the way things are.

No one wants to take Responsibility for anything. Everyone plays the victim.

Our country has developed a bad habit of filing lawsuits over the smallest of things. You sue Manufactures because you misused their product, that causes a hike in prices, when what you should do is go slap your Parents for not aborting you at the moment of conception because apparently you're a complete idiot. You sue Medical companies because you take their drugs and you develop a side effect that you were clearly warned could happen before you even took it. again you're an idiot.

If I have heartburn and the cure may cause blindness & diarrhea and I take it anyway knowing the possible consequence then I should have NO Right to sue when I shit all over my self because I can't find my toilet!...

you sue your Doctors who have spent a lot of precious time away from family & loved ones to reach that educational level just to hand you a tissue when you come in crying over the ~~sniffles~~ sniffles. Then when something really happens, you sue them for saving your life... well you're an idiot and they should have let you die!

Doctors have you or your immediate family sign a ton of papers before doing any serious medical procedure, trying to keep from being sued, but you cunning little dumbasses always find a way don't you. you want to get rich on another's sweat & tears, you work hard to get free government millions you think you deserve & is owed to you - That's why we're in debt.
