

# Reflections - #

12/12/12

On the inside looking out. Reflections of the life once lived, and the ways to make ends meet. Quoted & devoted to the chaos, addicted to the streets. A man amongst men, where there's constant danger, contagious yet unique!

Oppression from angles above. A place to peep one from rising. A systematic plan that's designed to reproduce a many ghetto bastard! Fruidous schemes and pipe dreams peeps the masses distracted, we imitate all that's on T.V. forgetting them folks is actors.

Indoctrinated with lies, fear, peeps us enslaved, instead of fighting for true liberation, were hugging ole massa chains! Mentally dead, yet still mobile, life passes us by.

Settling for the security of conformity, the pie in the sky...
