

Determination

Elevating the mind by any means. A lot of times we see an unjust act, yet refuse to do what comes naturally (assist) because of the indoctrination instilled to keep us in submission.

Slavery has been around since the making of adam, yet our minds can only go back to the enslavement of the dark man. Society keeps us divided & misguided, so confused we seem to hate our own skin!

Our achievements and disappointment start from a thought inside our own head. What one thinks s/he usually will become. So you have to work hard to eradicate the B.S. out of your mind constantly, and fill that void with positive, productive influences.

Knowledge is nothing if not applied. Words mean nothing if not followed by action. So you got to stay sharp, stay active, stay focused and truly achieve!! Forever Forward...
