BOND ISSUANCE

IRC 26 § 149 REGISTERED BONDS ARE TAX-DEDUCTIBLE

Bonds raise money called DEBT CAPITAL.

A Bond, is a loan agreement representing a debt. In return for the Capital given to a corporation or government entity, the bondholder gets a promise of repayment of principal and interest over time, instead of ownership rights. Since the holder of a bond is a creditor instead of an owner, this claims against the assets of a corporation are satisfied first in case of a failure of the business venture. NDUGU ENTERPRISES, INC., will secure these debts with its authorization to sell stock. In fact, these bonds will eliminate banks, creditors, governments, and investors debt and lower your risk to investments.
