Hi Nicki, I truly appreciate you taking the time to write to me. No need to ever apologize I Am respectful of your Job, and I value anytime you got to spend with me. Thank you... For telling me something About your life.

you don't have to worry I Am not A thief nor A liar, because I don't have time for typical mind games. Plus it only becomes A permanent problem down the road. Know I deeply appreciate your bluntness. (Smile)

Nicki, you sound very mature to be 22, which I admire! Know I truly understand and respect you being A single mother, and you doing what's necessary for you and your BABYgirls. you remember hold your head up high and continue to greet each day with A smile.

Do you have the slight idea how Amazing you Are? Nicki you seem like the type of person that takes care of everybody else, but who takes care of you? Will you Allow someone to put you first and show you what it means to be placed on A pedestal. what would that mean to you?

Can you Tell me what Nicki heart desires? I hope you don't mind me Asking questions, because I'm not trying to pry I just want to discover more about you. IS A photo exchange between us not in the cards?

Remember you can ask me anything I promise I won't be anything less than honest with you. Nicki, if you'll permit me one last thought, is this only A computer thing because I would love to exchange letters with you, but I understand if this is more convenient for you, but in All honesty if this platform ended today I would terribly miss conversing with you.

Well I don't want to hold you long, but know I've really enjoyed this. I hope to hear from you soon.

Stay Sweet
your friend
Anthony
