Pg 1 of 1

2013 has arrived and I'll be going to a bootcamp program that releases inmates after 6 months of participation. I should be in the program by 9/2013 and out by 2/2014 ... I'll be out by my B-Day (3/9) ~~2014~~.

By the time I get out that will be 12 years in prison and although ~~the~~ lot has changed out there ... I'm ready to be out there and leave prison focused on a better life.

I'm extremely apologetic for my actions that led to my incarceration and I truly feel the only way to make good on that apology is to live my life as a better man and make better decisions in the future.

Prison has changed my life for the better and although the conditions, staff, inmates etc have been hell to deal with ... it's all made me stronger, wiser, and grateful for another chance at life.

Continue to extend me your words of encouragement and prayers. Take care out there and write me at: Marcus Rogers #377571
