

(My Proclamation)

I look her in the eyes AND told her

I'll choose you over ANYONE, there is no questions about it. You have EARN your place with me, AND it CAN'T be taken. I would MARRY you, but you are taken, but the finest wine's is usually already in someone private collection. I call you wine because you CAN only get better over the, which I believe you have. I will always be your emotional support center, when you suffer, I want to suffer with you, because I CAN NOT suffer for you. I CAN show you how to not suffer. You know why people cry, because the emotions they are trying to hold in, come spilling out. And those tears of love and happiness. I love appreciate on you, because no feature could be add to your face to make it more beautiful than it already is, beside your smile. Everytime I see you. I just consider you as the love I'll never have, but I'll never stop waiting in this life or the next. You are profound and very powerful. yet you are also clear and simple, the connection feel as real and intimate as my own skin and the earth beneath my feet. I look beneath the veil of your skin. And what I've discovered is the beauty, light, and truth that you are. I'm touched by you

Sincerely

Cooper

my secret thoughts

P.S. You took my breathe away and stop the beat of my heart.
But I know now to appreciate life, you must understand death.
So you are my reason for living