Thank you. I am glad my poem was able to inspire you to write. I really enjoyed reading your poem. Its good! And in your own words, I am not trying to blow smoke up your ass. I read your poem in my creative writing class and my professor as well as the other students all enjoyed your poem.

Your poem shows you have a real talent for writing. I am glad my poem helped your creative flow and I hope you keep writing. As soon as I complete my Ministry and Human Service College course which I will graduate this June, I also will start writing again. By the way, I just posted a poem I wrote in my creative writing class. PEACE.

Sincerely,

George Borges
