

Start of College Courses

By ~~Jeremy~~ Jeremy Hanson

Thanks to Nicki I am beginning study of Criminology course materials from a College in Australia. I want get college credits on a degree but the materials are interesting and I'm already learning things that will guide me in my struggles to reform the Criminal Justice system. I never knew the perspective of cops, judges and corrections officials but now I am beginning to. Combined with my intimate knowledge of criminals I already see how things could be improved, how some theories are frankly unrealistic and preposterous, and how the criminal mind is an enigma to criminologists in some ways. I thank Nicki with all my heart for helping me grow intellectually and to learn new theories, ideas and perspectives.

And of course I'd like to state publicly that SAH is dead wrong and the equivalent of the internet troll under your keyboard. Nicki is a student, and you SAH much as we already know are an idiot.
