

Reply ID: qM9e

Hey Nicki, It was truly a beautiful thing to hear from you again. I hope that life is treating you kind. I am glad that I could put a smile on your face, believe that you deserved it. Thank you for the compliment, I see you are a good conversationalist & flirt. (smile) Just know you made me smile today.

Nicki, you said a few things to me that truly deserve a personal response. I feel it's not meant for the world to see our whole conversation. So I'll patiently wait until you find the time to extend your hand to share those thoughts. In the meanwhile let me say yes you are a very warm & caring person, and you've understandably put up a wall around your heart because of all the unappreciative men you've encountered. Yes, I feel you... Nicki, look I don't claim to have all of the answers, but I think you've just opened your heart to the wrong men. Trust & believe we all have trust issues in one form or another, but I've learned along the way it's all about giving yourself permission to enjoy what's in front of you. Remember you can't have rainbows without the rain.

Nicki, contrary to popular belief about men in my position or men in general for that matter I have no intentions to ever play with your emotions, nor do I wish to use you or chew on you & spit you out. Alright listen to me handle what you must, I trust that you will be the best woman you can. Know I'll hold you to your promises of my letter & picture. Also know I really can't wait to discover more about you too Nicki! (smile)

P.S. I will define my Amazing Statement (smile for me)

(Confusing Never... Please don't stress over nothing, and I stand by my promises... and I'm here because I want to be.)

Single with Friends
• Can you handle that?

until next time

Take Care
Sincerely

Anthony 1-24-13