Peace to Candleships;

My writings are a reflection of my visions and experiences, and indeed before my incarceration and still to this day, I'm a lover and writer of music. I've ben going to the studio and making music since my teenage years, which is what exposed me to my poetic talent. I see the world through the lenses of a soldier at war. Growing up I thought that war was against the world. Today I realize the war is within myself, so I cultivate my thoughts, and I'm ever so grateful for this condusive canvas (blog) that allows me to paint my words and images. Thank you for your support
