One love to Nicki, and Peace to Kayla ;

Gratitude to you both for your encouraging comment. I do this for the love, because I'm a Poor Righteous Teacher. Writing and drawing is how I express my lessons. It also serves as therapy for me, seeing that I've endured so much turmoil in my lifetime, which has given my words a subject matter, given me the strength, to stand tall and let my voice be heard by expressing my thoughts in a way that only I can. My pain comes from my experiences which have taught me and molded me into the man I am today. From a heartless situation I have gained moral standards as I stand on: Integrity, Discipline, Respect, Loyalty, Honor, and above all Love. I appreciate your appreciation of my craft, and wish you all the Love, Peace, and Happiness the Universe has to offer.

Peace
