

'Why?'

What's your point if not to reach your peak?

To be good enough to show off for the weak.

Feeding your ego, making no true effect on people,

Dropping jewels and not connecting the dots.

Makes for worthless tools, no need to open your box,

What's the use of having keys that don't open locks.

Thoughts like hieroglyphs, make words that uplift,

Body a Pyramid, the build was the gift.

Ways of cement, Actions of brick,

Rock solid constructed that won't bend, fold, or split.

Why?

It's the question that only the source can answer,

While the unwise disguise the lack of knowledge with pointless chatter.

I tell my people to be patient because tomorrow

is ours,

So far ahead of the pack

they needed a head start.
