"Your Strength"

A father is seen as the force in a house hold,
The strongness with many titles,
So as a child growing up,
- I never understood these things,
I always felt you were put there only to be a pain in my side,
The evil villan who did not want me to enjoy my youth,
Really in all you were only doing what i need'ed.
A lot of times I sit back only to wish,
That i could go back to those times you told me,
How one day i would be just as strong,
Because of your love and teaching awarded me with,
Your Strength.
