

FREEDOM HO!

Well, maybe....

A court hearing has now been set for:

Tuesday, February 26, 2013

at 9:30 a.m.

at the Anderson County Courthouse

All friends and family that wish to testify as witnesses to how I was railroaded and wrongly convicted, may attend. This Judge does have the authority to reverse my wrongful conviction and have me removed from prison.

Since the conviction was the sole grounds for my custody battle in the case of my daughter Shylynn, a reversal of the conviction throws that automatically out! And DSS no longer has a foot to stand on; and when I get out of prison--I'll get to see all FIVE of my beautiful children and be an active part of their life no matter how far away they live.

Anyone to deny that, can kiss it!

I just hope to get an honest Judge. I'm trying for a change of venue, but we'll see how that goes. Wish me luck. At least this hearing is MY turn to talk! And MY families turn to see justice is done, and they won't have to resort to illegal acts of desperation like the jury tampering that got me convicted. People are afraid of the truth, that's why they waved photos at my original jury, begging them to please convict me.

Not a single piece of evidence proves my guilt, and for good reason--I never murdered anyone.
