

Write me a letter...

O.K, I been blogging on this site over a year and two people have sent me me regular letters through the mail...two people.

As much as I love to hear all the comments on the blog...they take forever to get to me and they seem so quick and impersonal. I guess I'm just trying to really ~~great~~ experience all of you out there and it's hard to do like this.

My suggestion is very simple Pick up a pen, a sheet of paper, write me a line or two and get it in the ~~mail~~

<http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/2042/> mail box...I know that all sounds so ancient (ha-ha) but give it a shot.

I promise you can ask me anything, be your self, and we'll even share a laugh or two. So I probally should let you get to that letter (LOL). Take care and I hope to hear from you soon.
