Elizabeth-Anne,

Thank you for answering some of the questions

I posted on the blog post. I actually got a good

<http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/2042/> laugh at your joke, so to speak, about my soy question (ha-ha). The reasoning behind that question is that we are fed large amounts of soy with every single meal we get in here so I was just wondering if there were any ~~hea~~ health risks from that. According to what you've sent it sounds like I'll be o.k :)

All that you sent was very helpful and accurate so I want to say thanks for all that you sent and for simply taking the time to read my post and make comments.

I wish you the best out there and hopefully things are looking up for you in your day to day world.
