Peace, Elizabeth-Anne,

It was a pleasure hearing from you, as my Magnetic Conscious wills that All is Well with you, as it is my way. I've been writing and drawing most of my life. I also write books, music, along with essays, and poems. I also have plans on writing plays too, in the near future. My life taught me survival, by the experiences and situations that many in my position have fell victim to. I possess a driving will to never give up, and to live my life to the fullest regardless of my location or circumstance. My experiences give me the base of most of my writings, and also therapy. The paper is always willing to listen as I speak with my pen. I'm self educated, as I have read more books than your average local library shelves hold. Reading is also one of my passions. I am a self-proclaimed, spiritual teacher, and many look to me as there voice of reason. This is a position that I take pride, because I am a poor righteous teacher, and I build with people out of love with no expectations. Love is Love. Peace, Tyrone Made Loyal
