Dear Schneehase

Good morning my dear sweet Friend. I received the comment last night. and as always I enjoy hearing from you, whether it be here or through snail mail.

Now I'm more of an agnostic than an atheist. I leave the possibility of creation open. We could have had a creator who created and moved on, or created and died out. you can't blackmail the dead. Jesus will never show up because he was not Christ the son of God/God in the Flesh. and the evidence is there in the biblical text. Matthew 12:40 Jesus said the only miracle they would see was that, that after 3 days and 3 nights in the tomb that he would rise, yet he did not spend 3 nights in that tomb. IF you want to we can discuss this I'll take you through the Jewish day's Genesis 1:1-21 showing you the Jewish day. show you Luke 23:54 Jesus is placed in the tomb on Friday evening, and the body is missing Sunday morning. I'll show you that and everything else that destroyed my Faith, if you really want to discuss that on the blog.

A lot of times in my journal I'm making comments on how I feel at that moment. I'm frustrated, this cell's driving me nuts. I've prayed and hoped for death to come only to wake up again and again in this cage. This is hell on earth.

The holier than thou comment. Next time a proponent says that, tell them your following your Faith. and then ask them what their excuse is, playing God taking lives.

As for the prozac. I agree users depend on it. you can see that with me. I don't like having to take any medication. yes I've been on and off prozac for 25 year's. I was taking it on the street. It was my Dads, but I was taking it. Right now its not working for me. :- Hopefullly it'll kick in and start working for me.

you can now write me using j-pay.com e-mail service, which is cheaper than oversea's letters. I think I told you about that in my last letter.

I'm going to wrap this up, because I'll be writing responding to your letter over the weekend. This new stationary, I did this because you didn't like my skulls. I've got some other's as well, tiger, Raccoon, birds bears and I'll be doing other stuff. I hope you like it better.

Please take care my dear sweet beautiful friend. write soon.

In Peace Love and Friendship
