Hello Tamaaya,
how are you doing? First of all, I would like to thank you, for taking out the time to read my blogs. which only shows you'd must be open-minded, or at least curious about who I am? that's a good step in the right direction.

However, to answer your question? Truthfully speaking I've never had live on an street, known as Perry Ave. anyways if you'll are interestant in getting to know me, your next step, I sincerely hope, will be you, reaching out to me, likewise your letter would indeed definitely appreciated and responded to quickly.

Keep in mind, No-subject or thoughts or taboo, open-minds are a true blessing as well if you'll do decide, too reply back, it would be well-worth it Tamaaya, because the most honorable thing you, will find out about me, is I am a real man, of integrity. Good Bye!
