You know you say you really need to talk to me now after almost a year of not writing me. And if you remember your the one who made it that way not me Hell I dont even know what the Fxxk I did. But please tell me what is it you would like to talk to me about.

And I dont have Internet access. I send my Blog to Between the Bars and they place it on the Net for me. And any one comments on what I write about they print it out and send it to me. But as you can see I dont get alot of comments.

And the reason I didnt tell you about this is because I know how you are. the first time you got mad or anything at me you would start with that I'm Messing with some one from over here and I didnt want to go through that. just like when I wanted a face book page.

Oh and you have the power to make it where we can write again you just havent done it.

And Beauty I wrote for some one who ant around any more :)
