

Poodle

I have never said I wasn't a Butt head. And I really loved hearing your voice after so very long

But I really did get moved after talking to you because right after I got off the phone with you I ended up really hurting my ankle. It's all black & blue and I can barely get around. But I did really get moved you can go on line and see I'm on a transect wing.

Oh and like I give a hell if your old enough to be my Mom. It didn't stop me from hitting it the first time or any time after that. I'm in for the long haul if you'll let me be. Hell if any thing I'll even give up being a wicca to show you all I want is you. All I'm asking for is a chance to have you. For every thing else and every one else. I Love You and I don't care if every one knows it. I'm buting my broken heart in your hands you can fix it or throw the pieces away if that's what you want. But even if I have to do all my time and your 51 and I'm 39 I promise I still want to hit that. Then Now and 4 Ever

P.S.

Joe

I can only hope you can and will get your P.O. Box reopened for I can write you my Love
