RE: BLOG POST MATERIAL

Dear American Citizens;

Here I am, still confined to a California State plantation four Months after the lesser informational and politically dumb Citizens voted to change the [famous California State return to slavery law].

Myself, as well as other, similar alike to my situation should have in fact, been released from custody immediately thereafter the law changed, however, just like Lincon freed the slave and you had those who were seriously apposed, history is in fact being repeated in front of our eyes.

This Country was founded on slavery, and just because the Country has a black President, or should I say a jigga-boo for a President, ain't nothen changed, and in fact, things have become even worser for the lower class Citizens of America.

Governor Jerry Edmund Brown, is now in attempt to have the the federal appointed receivership oversight lifted, the need to encrease the State slaves is overwhelming. After the federal judge Theldon Henderson and others exposed the inhuman slave trade conditions that the California State slaves where being subjected to indure, the United States Supreme Court got involved and placed a temporarily holt to the slave trade.

However, how can you completely stop something, that in fact so many individuals outright encourage in our Country? and how can America point an ugly finger at North Korea, without first looking in the mirror at it's own ugly acts against it's Citizens of America. But, what do myself and other lessr informed informational American Citizens know?

Sometimes I sit and I wonder to myself, that if their is really a heaven, or a hell, just how many humans will end up in heaven, and how many will end up in hell? If you ask me, the entire human species is definetly headed in the completely wrong direction on a course of total destruction. Unill next time. Please blog
