I think it look's better like that. I should have done it from the start. I haven't done any serious art work in over a week. I'm starting to burn out on it. It would be different if my work would sell. After this miami game I'm going to look at doing some pushups and cardio. I'm going to write a couple of cards.

2:14 PM. miami just won, I enjoyed that game. I also got a card ready to go out to liberation prison project. Right now I'm going to walk, listen to music and see where I go from there.

4:27 PM. I just finished writing Brother Otto my christian friend. He's a really good guy. also ate dinner, it was better than that nasty lunch. I walked for about an hour. I didn't do anything else. Fixing to walk for another 30 minutes, then watch some news and wait on the shower. It'll be 8 PM or later before I get to the shower. Time to walk.

SATURDAY march 16, 2013 5:18 am waiting on breakfast, should be here any time. I'll heat it all up before I eat. I got one letter in last night from Anne. I'll write her and one other letter today. watch some basket ball and see what else today holds.

Listening to music and working on some new stationary. This is humming birds, which was Sherry's favorite. Hard to believe she's gone. But we all will eventually leave this world and body behind. I'm going to make a Casserole for lunch using the food on the tray and a Ramen soup and cheese spread from the canteen. I haven't made one in a while. They are good. Right now I need to get back to this stationary. No - I'm going to walk for a while until lunch.

12:05 PM just finished eating, it was good. I'm watching basketball. I messed up this stationary. I'm not going to send it out to get copied. I'll use it to write on one time and post. One of the guys just went out to visit.

3:22 PM just finished watching the Miami Hurricanes win. Not sure what I'm going to do now. That Born Losers that I missed the other day is on again at 5:30. I may go watch that. Then again I may work on this stationary. I do believe I'll send the humming birds out to be copied.

4:30 PM just finished eating. I was messing around with this heart stationary, but it didn't come out good. I was using these cheap color pencils. I need some more paint. My eye sight is getting really bad, and this art work isn't helping.

school girl and getting on my nerves. I'm fixing to lay down and call it a day. I've got to wash clothes first.

Sunday March 17, 2013, 4:36 am. Been up since 3 am. just couldn't get back to sleep. Have about another hour till breakfast. I'm listening to my music. having a cup of coffee. trying to decide what I'm going to do. made my bunk, I need to wipe the floor down and then either write or work on some new stationary.

5:40 am Finished eating, that is our best breakfast. eggs grits, potatoes and biscuits. Cleaned the floor and started a letter. I'm going to work on part II later today of How The Bible Destroyed my Faith. I was going to make it about the contradictions in the Resurrection, but instead part II is going to be about the unfulfilled prophecy of Matthew 12:40 well back to this letter.

8:54 am. Finished a letter wrote a card. and I have a chicken stew cooking for lunch. I used a chicken dinner, Ramen soup. Rice and beans and the potatoes off the breakfast tray. Those chicken's are good, but just expensive $6.75. I'm back and forth on what to cover on part II. I was looking at that earlier. There's a lot of work in either one.

well I'm going to get back to this piece of stationary then I'll see where I go from there. more art writing who knows.
