Now that I am out of prison

3/16/13

I will spend time telling the real stories of what really goes on inside... See, no overpaid, overweight, under-educated dipshits with a badge can see what I send out now.

In some cases, I will name names as there is factual documentation I will post (like a prison Wiki-leaks)

I will NEVER jeopardize the life or safety of any inmate or officer with what I share so if that's what you seek, go to another blog.

I hope to have a computer soon so please watch for ACTUAL legible posts. Gargh!

I will also be sharing stories, advice and ideas about this new aspect of my so called "Debt to Society" known as parole.

So stay tuned, dear and faithful fans. I will not disappoint you.

It's not so bad, to be dead like me
