

HATE NO MORE

Hate no more!
Hate what for?

Ignorance is dead!
Love is left to spread.

Poverty is gone for sure.
No one is dying from being poor.

Social conditions are no longer sad.
And our environment is healthy, not doing bad.

Hate no more, because nothings left to hate.
Spend our time and appreciate

Racism has vanished, and in its wake;
Equality is left to compensate.

Terrorism is a thing of the past;
Just like war it did not last.

Education is increasing fast;
All over the world its making a dash.

Science is advancing our technology;
We are sharing it as if its our apology.

Hate it seems has turned into trash;
Burned to a cinder and discarded like ash.

Hate ChAnGe

You hate to change and its taking you down;
its like suffering silently, without making a sound.

The whole world is passing you by;
while you stay anchored, looking for a pie in the sky.

You hate to see things for what the are, instead you see what you want them to be; and rob yourself of victory.

The entire universe is changing, every second of everyday;
leaving you out of touch in every way.

You hate to accept that you are trapped in time;
lagging in the rear, far, far behind.

The rest of humanity is constantly progressing;
while you are stagnated and stubbornly regressing.

You hate to explore the nature of change;
you choose to ignore it as if you are deranged.

The constant cycle of change is like a current that flow;
you have to be like a vessel sailing as the wind blow.

You should not hate the nature of change;
you should effect it and always keep it in your range.