

Reply ID: pfq4

Daniel Gwynn
Date: 4/1/13

PFq4

Queen B

Thank you for hearing my voice, feeling my pain. It's very sad to lose a loved one, and not being able to be there for them due to means beyond your control. There are some allowances to attend a funeral service or a critical hospitalization, but there's no government official in this State or Court that will permit an indigent prisoner such an allowance.

God has been my constant companion through all of my trials & troubles. He's my rock & strength, and has opened my eyes & lifted me up no matter how many times I've turned my back on Him. I may never get to see the glorious light of day again outside of these walls, but He has taught me to still LIVE in spite of them & my wrongful conviction. I could be caught up in anger & bitterness because there is no justice in this system, but I refuse to let this situation tear me down!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

