

What is Love?

What is Love?

Love is hope
seeking self assurance
to Overcome an obstacle.
It is a feeling of tranquillity
the heart of life,
the joy of tears.

Love is the cloud that flies,
the wind that lies.

Love is the spear
that strikes all chains
to the pearly gates.

Love is the flower
that sprouts in the day
and sleep through the night,
what a beautiful dream,
a perfect delight.

Love is faith,
the imperishable tool,
a gift from our God,
a most precious jewel.

Love is your blood
that scatter your seed,
building generations,
adhering to ones needs.

Love is a force
that replenishes self.
It mends our sorrows,
it gives us help.

Love is watching the sun rise
while being enclosed in a dark cave.

Love is drinking water from an empty cup.

Love is freezing ice with a flame.

Love is hearing the rocks grow,
seeing the voices of the animals,
feeling the oceans flow.

Love is the armor of the spirit,
the atom of bliss,
the essence of vision,
it shall always persist.

Consumed within nature, inbred in our souls.

For it is our bounty, for it is our goal.

So relish your wisdom, fly like a dove.

For you are the answer to the question,
What is Love?

Submitted by:

Larry Rush #AM-2728
S.C.I. - Greene
175 Progress Drive
Waynesburg, PA 15370-8090