Irvingb4,

Thanks for your reply to my blog. It's always so encouraging to get feed back from the outside world. I've made so many mistake in my life both on the streets aswell as in prison...in the end they have all helped me to grow and I will most definately make the best of any future situations or oppertunities.

I don't know much about you but I would hope that you are doing well and have a positive approach to events that ~~wix~~ take place in your life. Take care, thanks again, and feel free to stay in touch.

Respectfully'
