

Change is certain

Change is exciting, but it can be a bit worrisome also. I have been in this prison for almost 10 years. I have come to know how things work around here. There are a lot of people I know and so on. I am now, most likely, going to be transferred.

When a man does a "good program" in here he is considered a lower level security risk and is placed within a lower level prison. That is my situation. I am attempting to stay here if possible, or if not that, to transfer to the new Stockton medical Facility as a hospice worker. But nothing is certain in prison. I may end up halfway across the state from loved ones in a bad situation. God is in control and i trust that what ever situation I find myself in it will be for my good and His glory, so enough said.

A good friend of mine, who happens to be my mom is also facing change. She is really taling charge of her life and making huge changes, reinventing herself as she puts it. I ask for prayer for her for guidance and protection as she sets out.

I will most likely be off screen for a while while I move or at least deal with the adminstration here on the issue of transfer so if you don't hear from me for a while that is why. I shall return! ;)

Please also pray for Doc and Chris who are working with me on my bok. They are heaven sent!

God bless. Num. 6:24-26
