

Quotes Clarified: Humpty Dumpty

by Nate A. Lindell, created 8 May 2013

Ask not what Humpty Dumpty can do for you.
Ask what you can do for Humpty Dumpty.

Of course this is what the illustrious J.F.K. really said. But, by the time the Warren + all the other commissions dubbed, doctored + replred every single audio recording of that profound speech, most people believe J.F.K. was talking about some abstract drivel... country.

Absolutelley nay!

Humpty Dumpty is a real man, who busily + precariously balances his rotund head/body up on The Wall, humptying and dumptying for all of our benefits. And heaven help us if he falls!

That's the facts people, and it ought to have you fearfully aware of your duty to join your fellow citizens of this AWEsome red, white and black and blue nation in holding your hand up to H.D.'s <sup>nuge</sup> butt and help hold him up! Keep in mind, we can't have people on the left buttock pushing too-much harder than those on the right, nor vice-versa, or we'll topple the wobbly fellow. We all must steadily push somewhat, but not too much, come rain or shine.

Wonderful! That's exactly how to do it!

Keep it up now, bear with the ache in your arms + back. Duty now.

— finis —