

Addendum

It occurred to me after my most recent post that I may not have sufficiently answered the question as to what behaviors are the officials trying to modify in these state-of-the-art supermax-like facilities?

Speaking of my own direct experiences I have had the following aspects or facets of my life attacked, in some instances quite intensely, by use of aversive techniques, in particular aversive therapy and classical conditioning: a) a loving relationship between I and a lady friend; she is of another nationality and race, b) the solidarity between my coreligious confederates and I. Note: to break or undermine all "emotional supports" is a key brainwashing/ behavioral change tactic; c) my religious and ideological beliefs, including my political beliefs, d) my propensity to challenge illegal prison conditions through litigation, and e) a propensity to sometimes confront and stand-up to authority, sometimes through use of violence.

I know of other prisoners who have similarly had their political, religious and ideological beliefs and personal relationships attacked through aversive techniques. The majority are either in the federal or other state prisons. I am able to illustrate and explain some of the above methods used upon me if there is ~~not~~ enough interest. I should also mention that the officials have been using reflex conditioning to attack me in a sexual way, as ~~outlandish~~ it may sound, as with all of the above, its all true.
