Another day in T.D.C. I wonder if these hoses will ever release me? Every time I come out my cell these laws think I'm gonna give them hell. Is it because the way I look, or because they think I'm a crook. Nah I don't steal, I have never been my deal. I'm known to fight and maybe pass a couple of kites. I'm well respected Crazy's my name. In this prison I run game. I'm the realest of them all, me and my homies we stand tall. A gangsta, I move in silence, respect my mind there won't be no violence. But at the end of the day, we all gonna be OK. As long as you know, it will always be my way!
