XYZst, back at cha!

Reality can be a trip huh? The good news is that reality can change, real talk.

Change, so, who possesses the power to change you? Not all change is bad because you can always change for the better.

The best thing about change is it's access to freedom, think about that, you have the freedom to change your own mind, make your own choices.

You now have the power to change the direction that your life is headed in right now. Take a good look at my photo, yeah, there's a new generation being sent to deathrow and we're getting younger and younger, y'ez up here now, feel me?

Never in a million years did I think I could be on deathrow, especially for street level crimes, wow, this can happen to anybody, including you.

Own your own freedom to change the future and it's direction, oh yeah, guess who the future is?

If you want to take a brief glimpse into the future, I suggest you look in the mirror.

I'm Just Saying Tho!
