* Cockroach RUN

Here in Corcoran California's Prison Segregation UNIT, Hoards of red & black Cock roaches. Crawl out from the depths of the drains & scurry across our day room floor & then into our cells looking for snacks I suppose.

Pet control sprayed the first wave of the six legged critters. In the morning hundreds lay dead on our day room floor & in our cells. Still though the insect ~~keeps~~ comming night after night I try and keep control over my cell. Thankfully these creatures are no bigger than what they are.

I have never seen an infestation as bad as it is here - These Bugs are fearless with an aggressive nature unlike other cock roaches that shy and only come out in complete darkness. Also I would think that these Bugs are infectious but I have no information on Cock Roaches. If anyone can attain some info on this little critter I sure would like to learn what I and other inmates are up against.
