for those who have hungered for, who have dreamed of, a whole different world, without the madness & torment of what this system brings every day, those who have dared to hope that such a world could be possible, & even those who, up to now, would like to see this, but have accepted that this could never happen, there is a place & a role, a need & a means, for thousands now & ultimately millions to contribute to building this movement for social revolution, in many different ways, big & small, with ideas & with practical involvement, with support, & with questions & criticisms, get together with this party, learn more about this movement & become a part of it as you learn, acting in unity with others in this country, & throughout the world aiming for the very challenging but tremendously inspiring & liberating, & yes, possible, goal of emancipating all of humanity through revolution & advancing to a socialist world, free of exploitation & oppression, unless we can break the grip of identification with the oppressor, & internalization of the empire, we can't fight back effectively, unless these realities of racism & domestic colonialism are addressed head on, efforts at "progressive" or anti corporate political action against the sequester will gain no traction, they will not be able to overcome the "fear factor" engendered by the wave of state repression that greeted occupy. capitalism is not "color blind," & we can't be either, the way to build real unity is on an anti imperialist, anti capitalist basis, this entails a break with the "lesser evil" approach that traps people in the deadly embrace of the democratic party, obama has deported more people than any president in history, obama's actual economic policies have been ruinous for black people, obama embraces "free trade", the trans pacific partnership & the trajectory of military encirclement of china, obama is not captive of empire, he is its front man & helmsman, the antidote to obama is black liberation, intercommunal solidarity, & anti colonial, anti capitalist struggle, embracing true solidarity & the leadership of liberation forces from communities of color, communities of resistance in the ghettos^P, barrios, & reservations, & prisons, is necessary if we are to counter the stratagems of the empire,
