

CONNECTICUT DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTION'S DIRTY LITTLE SECRET!!!

There are literally hundreds of employees working as correctional officers in this state who have criminal records. Many of the abuses are committed by these people. They plant contraband on inmates, lie on disciplinary reports, physically, verbally and mentally abuse us. Then when someone snaps and taps their jaw the cycle of abuse begins again.

Most of these convicts in blue uniforms get their criminal convictions after they've been hired. The Department of Correction (DOC) is not able to police itself. The vast majority of these people were supposed to get fired. Most hold convictions for DUI and Drug Possession. There are some 4th degree Sexual Assaults with Risk of Injury To A Minor and other felonies plead down to misdemeanors. Those of you who understand the system will see that the courts are also showing them favoritism in sentencing.

You can verify this by requesting a copy of DOC criminal records log from the DOC in wethersfield. I am the first Connecticut prisoner to do so. My goal was to get the records of these abusers because they were setting people up for write-ups. But when it's my word against their's I suffer from a credibility deficit because I was convicted. In order to get a fair hearing I wanted to show that these officers also have a credibility deficit, just the way your lawyer would do in court. The result was that the C/O's union approached a state senator to introduce a bill preventing inmates from obtaining the arrest records of DOC employees. As you might imagine, it passed. SO THE ABUSE CONTINUES...

What do you think?
