2013

5-28-13

Equality can be the biggest battle one can fight for one thing for sure though, you can't fight behind a closed door

Waiting for others to take on your fight, staying silent, How will they ever know your plight.

Come! Join with us you beautiful crowd Why not now, it's time to be Proud!

Each and everyone has something to share
Please extend your hand and show
That you care

Be that as it may - Be that as it might Finally were seeing the rewards of our righteous fight

Remember when they try to make you feel disgrace Hold your head's up - it will be the hater's saving face

So as we come to the end of this race Please dear sister's and brothers keep up your pace

Just so everyone here knows, I love the ones who came before They gave me the courage, to kick down my door.
