

Wolf Keeper

Thank you for your kind words. I am in your debt. I really appreciate you taking time out of your life to transcribe my words. my hand writing is terrible. every time I sit down to write I go through at least a baby trees worth of paper

For close to 15 years I have waited and hoped for the chance to be apart of my Daughter's life. every thing I thought I wanted to say has disappeared like last night's dreams. Now whats left is more pure and from the heart of a father.

Thank you again and please have a good day
