Thank you for your wonderful comment on my poem. Its Not that often I get any. I think most people look at them as dark and messed up or they just dont get them.

But please R/S/L. And please tell me a little about your self.

And please tell me what do you think of my New poem. It also dont have a Name
~ Pain is just a illusion that resides in the brain.

You cant die from just pain alone.

But loneliness on the other hand resides in the heart.

And a broken heart is like a shattered soul that death waits to behold.

And I can feel his eye on me.

But still he waits to end this lost life

I try to call my own.

But my destiny obviously to forever be alone.

Trying to forever end this lonely life Fked up and stoped ~
