* OUTRÉ *

We are all unique and special in our own way.

Outré —

Bizarre —

Eccentric —

Ask yourself, what category would you fall under?

Did you find a category or multiple categories? Create your own category?

No matter what you fall under there's someone out there who will love you if you seek them out.

No matter our faults, no matter our inner and outer scars, there's someone in this world to love us.

Even if you don't love yourself, someone will love you.

Why do some of us feel so isolated even when surrounded by others?

Why do people hurt us when all we want is to be loved?

We may never find those answers, but we will find true love..... just open your eyes and then your heart.

I'd rather have love and a broken heart than have a shrivled heart and NEVER know love.

Always,
