

6.28.13

Right Away

By LeVar Burton

my Father in Heaven, it's me again, your child LeVar,
I thank you for getting me through, thus far.
This road has been rough, this road, is tough,
but I think I'd done had enough.

for I have found my talent, for you were right there,
through all the turmoil, chaos, and all the despair,
I'm calling on you cause, I feel like giving up,
and I need you right away, to come and lift me up.

I have prayed and prayed, is my faith not that great?
or do good things really come to those who really wait?

Satan got a hold on me and wont let me go,
saying you don't hear me, and I reap what I sow."

Dont know why, and I dont know what to do,
that's why I'm taking the time out, to come to you.

Please show me the way, Please hold my hand,
Please guide me, and I thank you for me being a better man
if it werent for you, I would've probably quit,

Probably gave up on life, Probably sliced my wrists.

To know that you're there, whenever I call,
to help change my mind, when I wanted to end it all.

So I thank you Lord, for all of the help,

Knowing I cant trust man, or anybody else.

I need you not another second, or another day,
just like the 911 dispatcher, I need you right away!