* FREEDOM OF WILL *

Do we truly have free will or is there such a thing as destiny?

I often feel like a slave to the winds of time, buffeted this way and that, never to stay still long enough to grow roots.

We may be free to choose daily actions, but is that the extent of our free will?

Are we victims of a predetermined outcome?

Was I suppose to end up in prison?

Was I suppose to meet you, and you me?

Why are we meeting like this?

Always,
