

Nicki,

I am so happy to see you again. I have truly missed your thoughtful prose and compassion. Our Nemesis SAH is gone btw 😊.

I agree with you that much of "American" culture rots the brain. But we do have some good stuff here but nothing we export. I envision in 50 years a society of obese zombies who sit in front of a tv all day, or any other device that can be sat near, mindful of an episode of BrainDrain 2063. Luckily I'll be dead. But not I be too hard on my country the Supreme Court just defended gay marriage and our dignity so we have our moments where I burst with pride in my Government.
