

"Don't Let the Time Do You"

There are many words of wisdom that I'd like to impart to you It's not about where you are at, but what you choose to do

You can get caught up and binded by these walls Or you can choose to get up and stand after your fall

You can allow the gates and razor wire to keep you within their confines Or you can choose another direction and elevate your mind

You see these walls may have your body held inside
But they can never trap what's held in your mind

There are many words of wisdom that I could pass on to you However the most valuable ones are
"Don't let the time do you."
