

A Mothers Wish

My mistakes are mine alone to bare
The life I have lived, I want to share...
If only to help you avoid the path that I have traveled To give you advice that can help you win the battle;
The battle that life has in store for you I will be here to help guide you through I may not be there to stand by your side or hold your hand ...
But I pray that you grow into a Strong Young Man
