

Pax Vobiscum!

(Aglaia) My Precious friend & daughter; I pray you are well in ~~our~~ health and spirits, and I hope that your recent trip was adventurous and enjoyable for you and your Mother.

I must admit that I am yet overwhelmed with joy at your appearance on My blog 😊; it has truly been an inspirational event! You are that exuberant force within my life; that beautiful and precious Morning Star rising to give me both hope and guidance with this darkened abyss called prison.

Every man and every woman is a star!

This is a verse from Liber XXXI AL "The Book of The Law - And it truly applies to us ^{(MANKIND)} in every sense; whether we realize it or not each and everyone of us are micro-universes within ourselves; we have our planets, moons, satellites and stars that we orbit - or they orbit about us - And from the greatest to the smallest; positive or negative, each and every act we perform, decision we make in some way affects everyone - even in the minutest sense; as every physical act, mental thought, or verbal comment resonates throughout the Universe.

Life behind these walls are what one makes it; yes! It's rough mentally; sometimes dangerous and deadly in the physical sense. The worst of all is the damage done to the Spirit! We seen men come in here devote Christians, Muslims, and Buddhist - and within (5-6) years become walking dead men! Their spirit completely crushed and destroyed "In them nothing exist - No god of anykind; no hope, no passion, dreams or desires (NOTHING); this is the worst of all things that prison can impose and execute upon one.

I am fortunate and thankful that after (28) years that I am yet Mentally and Spiritually intact! You, Aglaia and your sister Christen have been the biggest reason for this; And I owe my Mother, and Bahra a big credit as well in their support and dedication over the years. Bahra was there with and for me through the long & dark years I just done in Solitary confinement (2004 - 2011); and you & your sister were ever there in heart, mind and spirit - All of you I am so thankful for and ever indebted to!

I love you and miss you so much, your beautiful and bright smiles; and the warmth of your laughter. Ad infinitum
 Love Dad & Friend
