

July 30, 2013

Kat A,

Hello, how are you? I hope and pray that my letter finds you and those close to you in the best of health and happy spirits full of strength.

I'm surviving here, has much changed since my last blog posting, had some x-rays of my ribs, the Physician Assistant says nothing is wrong, do I believe him, no, mostly because when I turn in bed at night my ribs get a jolt of pain, when I do a sit-up to swing out of bed my ribs hurt and when I pull open a door with my left arm my ribs hurt and when I walk down a slight grade my ribs hurt, makes me wonder how many people in the medical profession financially invested in health insurance companies tell their patients nothing is wrong so the insurance company doesn't have to pay out and the medical profession's stock dividend isn't compromised as a result of lost profit.

There should be law that bans health care workers from investing in health care related industries, so they aren't tempted to compromise their values and hypocritic oath to do no harm.

So have you gotten your bird feeder yet? Have you had any visitors yet if so?

See in the news that Detroit has filed for bankruptcy, Do you live in Detroit or the suburbs, hometown or a transplant to Detroit? Is the City making any effort to convert large tracts of property into parks, has anyone started a NPO to raise private money to buy property to convert to parkland, plant trees, solar lighting, here's an invention idea for you or more like an innovative idea.

Solar panels would act as shade, rain cover over the table, batteries would be inside the benches in a secure manner, there would be construction jobs, future maintenance jobs, vendors, activities, etc.

So what's your media associated Field, journalism, educational, advertisement?

Yah get to feel the rain and other weather, only time we are not outside during weather is if there is lightning, extreme cold or a tornado warning, other than this we have yard out.

Well I guess I'll be rolling along for now, it's 12:30 AM, time to get a couple hours of sleep. Take Care, Stay Strong and be happy, Hope to hear from you soon.

Blessings
Wildcat

