

Dear Rita,

07/29/13

Life is going OK. Some are good & some are bad. I've been in a bit of a funk lately & still haven't gotten used to my new schedule, but this too shall pass.

How'd your writing course go? Are you going to continue writing?

Yes, I love to read. It's one of the few things that takes my mind away from this awful place/situation. I am now reading a science fiction novel by Kevin C. Anderson called "Hidden Empire." I recently finished a biography of Queen Coanna I of Naples, Sicily & Jerusalem. I really love reading biographies of royalty. I'm not sure what I'll read next, perhaps a historical fiction novel by Ken Follett.

Do you get along well with your ex?

I have never had a personal visit since I got locked up 9 years ago.

Hugs,
